REPUBLICANS RUN ROUGH SHOD IN SENATE

With Help of Lieutenant Governor, Minority Filibusters To Stop Democratic Bills

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Mar. 1.—A republican filibuster in the Senate against democratic party measures was halted temporarily just before daylight today when derangement of the lighting system at the state capitol building caused Senator W. A. Perry, democrat, Louisville, to move adjournment until 2 o'clock today. The vote was put and carried in the dark.

The republican effort began at 10 o'clock Tuesday, although it did not get in full swing until after the recess for luncheon. From that time until 4:30 this morning there was no letup, the democrats refusing to recess even for an hour and the republicans declaring they would stay with the majority to a finish.

The Simmons' highway commission bill was made the vehicle of the republican filibuster. Their battle is aimed both at delaying action on it to the point where the house could pass it in time to prevent its being killed by the governor's veto and also to delay the blind and illiterate voters bill and the Smith-Minor general registration bill so they could be killed by veto.

The time of the Senate was almost entirely taken up by republican speeches charging the democrats with efforts to put the state highway department into politics. Plans were made today for another all night session tonight.

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 1.—Republicans in the Senate Tuesday seized the reins and began what promises to be a historical filibuster. Although in the minority they seized control Tuesday and at midnight still had the floor with the democratic majority sitting hopelessly while their opponents talked against time.

Republican floor leader Brock announced to the democrats in the Senate that republicans under the rules could hold the Senate until Wednesday night on the road bill. He announced that they were fighting for the "life of the republican party in Kentucky" and that they would fight to the end against the blind and illiterate voters bill and the general registration bill.

Prospects were that the session would last all night and possibly throughout Wednesday. Nineteen democrats and seventeen republicans were on the floor, Senator B. T. Davis, of Fulton county, having been granted leave of absence at 6:45 o'clock despite the fact that no republican would pair with him. He was ill.

At midnight ten amendments to the Simmons highway commission reorganization bill had been disposed of, and the clerk had probably twenty more before him.

It was taking from 30 to 45 minutes to act on each amendment. Every republican was occupying from one to three minutes in explaining his vote on each amendment.

The vote on an amendment was invariably followed by a motion to adjourn. This was followed by motion to recess. Occasionally a motion to table was made.

The clerk had called the roll 37 times since 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and on only one was there a unanimous vote. This was on an amendment by Senator Moss providing for removal of the commissioners for pernicious political activities.

The filibuster was started Tuesday afternoon immediately after the senate reconvened, and for more than three hours of the stormiest session yet witnessed by the majority party was unable to gain recognition.

The filibuster came, according to members of both parties in an attempt to delay action as long as possible, so that the party measures would be under the power of the governor's veto. The blind, illiterate voter bill and the general registration measure are scheduled for early consideration and the republican members were trying to delay action tion was the sub-road measure organizing the road department and creating a commission of four members.

The struggle was the most heated that yet has occurred on the Senate floor and members of the house and employees of the capitol rushed into the chamber. The galleries were filled and during most of the time the people were standing up. Charges followed charges when Senator Perry, president pro tem, finally took charge after an appeal from the decision of Lieutenant Governor Ballard, members of both parties rushed to the rostrum and surrounded the chair. The sergeant-at-arms took a hand in the affair and ordered the Senate chamber cleared and made the Senators resume their seats.

Senator Wallace made the longest speech of the filibuster campaign his address lasting 43 minutes. He frequently was interrupted for questions, but he always retained the floor. During the address of Senator Wallace, Gov. Morrow entered the chamber. Superintendent of Public Instruction Colvin also entered to hear the discussion.

At 7 o'clock sandwiches and coffee were brought in for the republicans, and all members of the senate, including the democrats, and newspaper men and attaches were invited to eat. The sergeant-at-arms locked the side doors against outsiders, but not the main doors.

At 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the Kentucky State Senate voted that, although the Constitution provides that a legislative day shall be a calendar day, the Senate can remain in continuous session after midnight. The vote was taken when Lieut. Gov. Ballard, on motion of Senator Hiram Brock, left the question of continuance of the session after midnight up to the Senate proper. The 19 democrats on the floor voted that the session be continued and the 17 republicans voted against it.

Ballard Plays Politics
Charges of unfairness were hurled at Lieut. Gov. Ballard, presiding officer, from the Senate floor when the filibuster started. Senator Brock, republican leader, had just concluded a long argument against Senator Simmons' bill to reorganize the state highway commission. Before him, Senator Moss, republican, had made an argument just as long.

When Senator Brock yielded the floor several democratic Senators jumped up shouting, "Mr. President, Mr. President."

Senator Haselden, of Crab Orchard republican, announced that the Enrollment Committee, of which he is chairman, wanted to make a report. The chair recognized Senator Wm. Wallace, of Madison county, however.

"I arise to personal privilege," Senator W. A. Perry, of Louisville, democratic leader and chairman of the Rules Committee, which is in control during the last twenty legislative days, said. Mr. Ballard recognized him.

"On yesterday," Mr. Perry said, "you made a statement of your fairness as a presiding officer. Today you have recognized the Senator from Bell county, the Senator from Harlan, and were ready to recognize the Senator from Madison. I ask you is that fair?"

"We know your program right straight through," Mr. Perry went on. "We knew you were going to recognize the Senator from Madison."

"If you did," Mr. Ballard said, "it was more than I knew."

"We knew it all right," Mr. Perry continued. "But we insist that you be fair. I warn you."

Senator Frank E. Daugherty, of Nelson county, ranking member of the Rules Committee, was the next to take the floor. "I make the charge from the Senate floor that a pre-arranged program has been carried out. First the Senator from Bell was recognized. When he had concluded the Senator from Harlan was recognized, and the chair was ready to recognize the Senator from Madison despite the fact that I was on the floor first."

In The House
During the afternoon, the House of Representatives, which had voted to hold a night session passed House bill 166, the school text book bill, 65 to 23, and also passed the Wicker bill, providing for various graded school certificates.

MURDER TRIAL GOES OVER TO MAY TERM

Death of Grandfather of Young Men Accused Causes Postponement of Case

Owing to the death of their grandfather, David Garrett, the trials of the two young men, Oscar Rucker and Frank Garrett, who are under indictment charged with killing Oliver VanSant, was postponed to the May term of circuit court by Judge Shackelford when the case was called Wednesday morning.

The two young men, and their parents and other relatives were in town all day Tuesday as that date was originally set for the trial. Their aged grandfather became worse and passed away.

Roy Williams who was accused by W. C. Powell of having stuck a pistol at him and robbed him if $5 on the L. & N. railroad some time ago, was acquitted by a jury. Williams conducted his own defense without the aid of a lawyer. He sought to show that he and Powell had been gambling in a freight car and that Powell lost the money gambling.

After Williams had won his case, it was remarked by a court attache that the only two cases where the defendants had conducted their own cases, were won by them.

Mrs. Eva Bicknell was acquitted of a charge of selling a drink of liquor for 35 cents but Tom Roberts caught a fine of $300 and 60 days in jail on a charge of selling a pint of moonshine.

Charles Fielder was acquitted on a charge of carrying concealed a deadly weapon. Three men were also acquitted of a petit larceny charge. They were James Fritts, Hugh Johnson and Mack Climaxer.

On a liquor charge Bowen Rose was given $200 and 40 days. The four Winchester negroes who were caught with a car full of moonshine whisky by Richmond police on Main street, one night several weeks ago, were all convicted and fined $300 and given 60 days each. They were Wm. McDonald, James Rose, James Skinner, Walter Perkins and Ada Wilson.

Jesse Owens, of Winchester, who is charged with false swearing in connection with this case, was brought to town by William Benton, son Judge J. M. Benton, and surrendered to the court. Judge Shackelford set aside a forfeiture of the bond which had been entered when Owens did not show up Tuesday. Owens will be tried on the charge Friday. He was placed under $500 for his appearance.

"Bill" Young was acquitted of a charge of selling liquor. He admitted having secured some but swore he did not sell any. "Bill" said he bought the liquor from Mrs. Lula Johnson, and he was instructed by Judge Shackelford to go before the grand jury and tell it the same story that he told on the witness stand.

More Brokers Indicted

(By Associated Press)
New York, Mar. 1.—Twelve more stock brokers were indicted by the Supreme Court grand jury here today for irregularities disclosed in District Attorney Blanton's investigation of bucket shopping which followed the failure of a number of brokerage concerns. The defendants names were withheld.

There were two other partisan measures posted by the rules committee in the Senate, under the highway commission bill. However, as they are House bills which had previously passed that branch, there is considerably more time for action on them than on the measure considered by the Senate first. There were 29 bills in all on the Senate blackboard, including Senator Marshall's bill to permit women to qualify as members of the board of trustees of the University of Kentucky.

The House at a night session passed Harry J. Meyers' anti-shark bill, 45 to 14. This bill lets the Russell Sage foundation's model small loan three and one-half per cent a month into effect.

NEW STORE'S OPENING A DECIDED SUCCESS

The sleet and rain kept a lot of people indoors Wednesday, but the bad weather didn't appear to affect the opening of Pushin's Fashion Shop in the least, if the crowds that thronged this latest addition to Richmond's commercial life were a reliable indication. The handsomely equipped store room was a blaze of light and beauty all day long. All the spring's newest things for the fair sex were displayed to advantage. Flowers were used in tasteful profusion and there were several large floral pieces from friends, including an elegant and massive floral horse shoe for good luck. Mr. Pushin, the proprietor, and his staff of ladies, Mrs. W. B. Lackey, Mrs. D. P. Azbill, Miss Bessie F. Azbill and Miss Margaret McBride were assisted in entertaining and waiting on the throngs that came constantly, by his brothers, Harry Pushin, of Danville, Sam Pushin, of Bowling Green, the latter's son, Abe Pushin, of Bowling Green, and Jake Baer, of Danville. Isaac Pushin, aged father of these bustling business men, was here from Louisville, to see the opening of this newest store of his sons. Mr. Pushin was kept busy, also, receiving congratulations from many friends he has already made in Richmond upon the brilliant success of his opening.

FIRE EXPERT TO DRILL LOCAL MEN

In order to give the members of Richmond's fire department the benefit of the latest methods and plans for successfully combating blazes, Mayor William O'Neil has arranged through the Kentucky Actuarial Bureau to have Capt. Stiltz come here for about a week or ten days' stay. Capt. Stiltz is a graduate of the training school of the Philadelphia fire department and for seven years has been connected with the Louisville fire department. He is an expert on fires and successful methods of combating them. He will put the local laddies through the latest drills and show them many things about the game that perhaps they don't know.

February was a record month for fires in Richmond, there having been a total of eight. None was very large or disastrous, however, the worst probably having been the gutting of the home of J. R. Quisenberry on Second street.

Homes Searched While

Men Are In Court
London, Feb. 28.—While they were sitting in the court room listening to the trial of moonshine cases, the homes of Cal Turner and his son-in-law, Howard Warner, were searched by Sheriff J. E. Stringer and a squad of deputies. Two moonshine outfits were captured and the deputies returned and arrested the two men in the court room.

Dying Man Confesses

Viars Murder Alleged
Whitesburg, Feb. 28.—In the alleged deathbed confession of John Coyer, former soldier, at Beaver Creek, north of here, the mysterious death of Miss Viars three years ago has been cleared. Miss Viars disappeared and a year later her body was found in the Ohio river. Just before Coyer died he confided to friends he murdered Miss Viars because she loved another. He stated that he struck her in the head with a hammer. To hide the crime he placed the body in a large good box and shipped it to Ashland. At Ashland he threw the body into the river.

PRaise FOR RICHMOND FROM BOWLING GREEN

Biggest Merchant There is Much Pleased Here—Is Strong Believer In Advertising

"I must say that I'm surprised and pleased at the splendid little city you have here," said Sam Pushin, of Bowling Green, who was here Wednesday for the opening of the Fashion Shop, his brother's new store, here.

"I had an idea before I came here that Richmond was just a big country town, with not much life, but I find that you have what seems to be one of the finest little cities in Eastern Kentucky. Your streets are magnificent, your business houses appear up to date and progressive. You have a great institution in the Normal school and you have a general air of prosperity and progress that is not seen in every town of this size."

Mr. Pushin is mighty well qualified to pass on the merits of a proposition, too, for he is perhaps the biggest merchant of Bowling Green, operating the Pushin Department Store. He says that a great deal of his success with his big establishment is due to his liberal use of printer's ink.

"There's nothing pays such big dividends as newspaper advertising," he said. "I spent over $6,000 last year in advertising in the newspapers of Bowling Green alone, besides other forms of publicity. I'm glad to see that my brother in opening his store here has started in using printer's ink liberally. There's no possible other way that a merchant or business man can reach his field as cheaply and as effectively as newspaper advertising. I am a strong believer in it, and I know that it gets the goods."

4 ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDER IN NASHVILLE

(By Associated Press)
Nashville, Tenn., Mar. 1.—Charles Petree, Tom Christmas, Otto Stevens, and John McClure were electrocuted in the state prison this morning, all within 25 minutes, for the murder of George Lewis, of Knoxville, on May 30, last year. They went for their deaths with prayers on their lips and all except Petree met death calmly. An hour before his execution Petree became ill.

DAVID GARRETT DIES IN BOBTOWN SECTION

David Garrett, a well known farmer of the Bobtown section of the county, died at his home Tuesday. He had been in feeble health for some time. NO CASH IN LATEST BONUS PLAN

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Mar. 1.—Elimination of the cash feature of the soldiers' bonus virtually was agreed upon today by republican members of the House Ways and Means committee. Chairman Fordney said a special subcommittee had been named by unanimous agreement "to work out some plan which would not entail any large drafts on the federal treasury within the next two years." Such a plan would make unnecessary any immediate bonus financing and would remove the cause of controversy in the House over the bill.

While elimination of the cash feature was not actually decided upon, yet the general understanding was if the cash feature is retained it would be made so much less attractive than other features there would be small demand for it.

Washington, March 1.—The American navy was virtually brought to anchor today by action of the House appropriation committee cutting the requests for appropriation for navy fuel from $12,000,000 to $6,000,000. The Navy Department immediately planned to stop all steaming of warships, the craft to remain where they are until additional funds become available through transfer.

FRITZ KREISLER IS COMING TO LEXINGTON

When Fritz Kreisler returns to Lexington for concert at Woodland auditorium Monday night, March 20, he will be received by an audience many of whom have heard him often before and others who are perfectly familiar with phonograph records. The Kreisler concert will be the fifth and last of the Artist concert series for the season 1921-1922.

Mr. Kreisler has penetrated and mastered every technical secret of his instrument until he can draw from it a tune of manifold and lustrous beauty, at one sustained and plastic, sensitive to whatever shading or suggestion he would lay upon it—the voice in perfection of the violin, the music and the artist.

Kreisler's tour this year has included all the leading cities of the country and he is now in Cuba. His return to the states is scheduled for about March 1.

Seats for the Kreisler concert may be ordered by mail from Miss Anna Chandler Goff, of the Lexington College of Music, or by telephoning 639-X. It is expected that the Kreisler concert will be the most popular of all the season's offerings and those who wish to obtain good reservations should write or telephon at the earliest possible moment.

POOL HAS SOLD 65,000 POUNDS

Says Warehouse Chief In Speaking To Ohio Farmers—Gives Them Good Cheer

Manchester, O., Mar. 1.—Basing the claim of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association to a greater membership in 1922 on the record of achievement in the first year of operation, Ralph M. Barker, director of warehouses, opened the new sign-up campaign here with a review of the accomplishments of the organization and a prediction of better results during the next five years.

"It already is certain that the association will accomplish what it set out to do, that is, get a profitable price for burley tobacco," Mr. Barker declared.

"Unless prices paid on the non-cooperative floors are tremendously increased during the next few weeks, the members of the association are certain to receive better prices than the growers who refused to sign."

"The prices at which tobacco have been sold and the prices at which the remainder will be sold guarantee that the farmers will receive more money per pound for their tobacco than any organizer has held out to them with the sanction of the association," he added.

Mr. Barker pointed out that much tobacco not yet delivered will be secured and stored until next summer in order to improve the grade. This process, he said, would add about 10 cents apiece to the value of the tobacco.

"If we sold all the green tobacco in this year's crop that is exactly what the manufacturers would do with it. The farmers are going to get the benefit of improvement in grade this time."

In citing the record of the association during the first year of operation, Mr. Barker pointed to the quick progress made in forming such an enormous enterprise.

"The calamity howlers at first predicted that the farmers could not be organized and we signed 77,000. Then when it was necessary to postpone the opening of the association's warehouses, the cowards said the farmer wouldn't stay hitched with open markets selling tobacco and there was hardly a violation recorded."

"Then it was talked about that the association could never get the handling facilities and in four meetings we acquired control of 120 houses. At one meeting the Liberty loan of the burley growers of the state was oversubscribed by $1,000,000 by the Kentucky bankers."

Finally driven by incontrovertible facts from every gloomy position, the opponents of the association gossiped that we never could be able to sell to the manufacturer.

"We had hardly begun to receive tobacco until Liggett & Myers, R. J. Reynolds and many independent manufacturers began buying tobacco as fast as we could receive it, despite the fact that 5 cents was added to the price."

Mr. Barker then announced for the first time that more than 15,000,000 pounds had been sold. The prices paid for this will in almost every instance give the grower from two and a half to three times the amount of loan value, Mr. Barker said.

So prosperous have been the selling operations of the association, that all loans made by individuals and county banks will be repaid in a very short while, much sooner than was expected by even the most optimistic of the promoters of the movement, and the organization will be able to operate on its own capital.

"We would not even have to resort to the loan of $10,000,000 from the War Finance Corporation if we wished not to," he said. "Next year and the next and every year of the association will be better and better as we gain in strength, prestige and experience."

"It was natural that many mistakes should have been made the first year and that the organization should not have been perfect. The astonishing thing has been that our affairs have been as prosperous and as for-

Seasonal Tips For Farmers

During early March is the best time to start war on insects by raking up and burning all trash in the garden. Many serious insects are harbored in this trash during the winter and early spring. If it is not cleaned up until later in the season, they are already active and cannot be destroyed by this method.

Those who have not made out their orders for garden seeds already will profit by doing so at once. Enough seeds should be ordered from some reliable seed house to last throughout the season. The best seeds are the cheapest in the end.

Rotation of the crops is important in the garden as it is in the use of field crops. Plan your garden this year so that you will not have the same vegetable growing on the same ground it did last year.

The most useful garden is the one that has a succession of crops throughout the season. This plan will necessitate several plantings of early vegetables, such as radishes, onions and peas.

Save time and labor and keep down the weeds easier this year by planting the garden seeds in long rows. This allows the use of a wheel cultivator or even a horse cultivator in some cases. Beds of lettuce, onions and radishes are out of date.

Leave a place in the garden this year for spinach as it is one of the most healthful vegetables grown. It is a quick maturing crop and will furnish a large amount of greens. For early greens, plant the last of March. Gardeners in the College of Agriculture say the Victoria, New Zealand or Bloomsdale are good varieties for Kentucky.

A few minutes spent in the garden each day is better than two or three hours once a week.

A Basketball Problem

Basketball authorities, particularly those of the colleges, are threatening radical changes in the code book. They are giving an especially hostile glance at that section relating to the free throw after a foul. Some teams possess free throwers so accurate that they win games in this manner even when outplayed from the floor. Way not permit all the players to take part in the free throwing? For example, when a personal foul is committed, let its victim make the free throw; when a general foul is called, such as running with the ball, allow the opponent of the offending player to make the free throw.

BEND

James W. Smyth came over from Berea and spent a week with with home folks.

Wayne Smyth has a severe attack of flu. He has been confined to his room for a week.

There has been the biggest tide in the Kentucky river for a year. The lowlands are entirely covered, taking away a lot of fodder.

The tobacco men are busy getting their plant beds sowed. A large acreage will be planted this year. They are pleased with the pool. All are getting busy.

Miss Ada Smyth was called home from Berea Saturday on account of her brother's sickness.

Mrs. Jasper Vaughn, of Iron Mountain, Estill county, visited her daughter, Mrs. Hudson Denny, last week.

There are quite a lot of hogs in the Bend not sold, being fed for the early market.

W. W. Walden, College Hill, has been confined for ten days with flu. He is a blacksmith by trade. This is the first time he has been off his job for fifteen years.

The quiet little village of College Hill is coming to the front. It has two churches, four stores, well filled with all kinds of general merchandise usually kept in country stores. The proprietors declare they are having good sales. "Competition is the life of trade." A saw mill will be soon installed here. And now for a high school and College Hill will be up-to-date in every respect, which we predict will be located here in the near future. College Hill is located on the hill overlooking Lock No. 11 on the Kentucky river and gets a good view of surrounding country. The Sugar Loaf mountain, near Irvine, 10 miles away, can be plainly seen, affording much beautiful scenery. We think this the most picturesque place for a graded and high school in Madison county.

The Rexall Store

Richmond, Kentucky
March 1, 1922

Ladies of Richmond:

Of course you are all interested in keeping your personal appearance up to and above par. I have a pleasant surprise in store for our lady patrons, and as you prove to be so numerous, I find it necessary to write you a letter about it in care of the Daily Register.

All the beauty of the world, "tis but skin deep," so wrote Ralph Venning. But Ralph was born about 1620, and nowadays we know that beauty often has no depth at all, only surface. Really, it is not at all necessary for a woman to be born with a lovely face, for, according to dermatologists, who ought to know, "beauty is only one-fourth nature and three-fourths proper treatment."

An opportunity has presented itself which I am sure will be of interest and benefit to all of you. Fortune has favored us and I am glad to announce that we have been successful in securing the services of Mrs. Daisy Courtney, a scientifically trained toilet goods specialist, for one week beginning March 6th.

If you wish to keep your skin soft, smooth, and fresh, the pores must be daily cleansed or impurities such as dust and accumulations of natural secretions in the skin both of which, if allowed to remain, clog the pores and give rise to skin troubles. The skin fades from neglect and must not be slighted.

Mrs. Courtney will be here at our expense to teach interested parties the proper method of caring for the complexion as well as the scalp and hair. She will be glad to serve you according to three general plans:—

1. On individual appointments she will call on you at your home.
2. Where several interested parties can arrange to gather at one place she will be pleased to meet with you in that way.
3. Where neither of the above plans is feasible, a few appointments will be kept at our store where we will have a private beauty parlor prepared.

Mrs. Courtney will be able to fill only a limited number of engagements and, of course, I want to give each of you the very first opportunity. All I ask of you is that as a manifestation of your interest you give thirty minutes of your time for a free facial massage.

If you care to take advantage of this opportunity and will phone me in the next day or so, I will make every effort to see that Mrs. Courtney's time suits your convenience.

Very truly yours,

HART L. PERRY.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S.
That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on,
is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it.
When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't common sense to simply treat the skin.

A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S. S. S. is a scientific blood cleanser.—It drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions.
When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S. S. S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood-cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It cures liver and have this happen to you. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes.
The larger size is the more economical.

GOLF CLUB MEETS THURSDAY NIGHT

An informal meeting of those interested in the organization of a golf club in Richmond will be held at McGaughey's Studio Thursday evening at 7:30. At the first meeting held last week a committee was appointed to take up the question of securing a site for the proposed club and this committee will report its findings at the meeting Thursday evening. A good many people signified their willingness to affiliate with such a club provided there is to be a country club in connection with it, and would not be interested if there is to be a golf course alone. While the intention was to have a golf club only, it may be that a country club also can be included in the original plans, and it is hoped that all those who have either plan in mind will attend the meeting which is to be held Thursday evening.

If there is a site proposed at the coming meeting which can be secured on satisfactory terms, it is expected that an organization will be perfected to go ahead with the necessary arrangements in forming the club, and it is desired that as many as can, who are interested in the movement, will be present.

TOM RUSSELL HEADS BLUE GRASS LEAGUE

Paris, Ky., Mar. 1.—The Blue Grass Baseball League assumed a definite form at a meeting here Tuesday night when Tom Russell, of Maysville, was elected president of the organization and representatives of six clubs announced their intention of taking out franchises with the league. Agreements as to the formation and rules of the circuit were agreed upon by representatives from five towns, Mt. Sterling, Paris, Cynthia, Maysville and Lexington, while Winchester men telephoned they were willing to enter the league on the terms agreed upon.

The next meeting of the league will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington, and it is expected that final steps in organization will take place at this time. Schedules will be presented and possibly adopted and by-laws and constitution are to be adopted.

The work of completing the organization of the circuit has been placed in the hands of the new president, Mr. Russell, who was president of the old Blue Grass League, defunct nearly a decade.

The league is expected to have six clubs, Mt. Sterling, Cynthia, Winchester, Paris, Maysville and Lexington. Two games will be played by each club each week on Thursdays and Sundays. An agreement was reached by which games will be played in Lexington, the largest city on the circuit, nearly every Sunday.

The Face In The Mirror

Your face, does it wear the contented expression of good health, or are the features drawn and pallid? In the latter case, your story is read by all who see you, and what woman of spirit wants to be pitied for her physical condition? There is a way to the nervous, tired lines out of your face and the slump out of your body. The use of that standard remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will strengthen the nerves and tone up the system to resist that excessive fatigue.

BOURBON TURNER, Admr.

POOL SPEECH

tunate as they have. "There have been few complaints on any score. Next year we will have a better organization, a cheaper one and the growers will make more money because of these improvements.

"Because of this wonderful record, and because of the promises which we can fulfill every year, the association must be, and is going to be stronger than ever.

"We want the man who was out this season to be with us next year. We do not harbor any grudge against him. Doubtless he was acting in what he thought was the wisest way.

"But we have shown him without a doubt that our way is the best and we are going to welcome him in. He must be sought out and invited with all proper argument to come in."

Mr. Barker at this point issued a warning against the use of any form of coercion or intimidation to bring men into the organization.

Growers were urged to obtain the best seed and to pay strict attention to improving the quality of tobacco this year.

"Do not plant any more tobacco than you can attend to properly," the speaker said. "If you do, it means that the whole crop will be neglected and the quality will be lower."

"The 1921 crop is shortest since 1908, when a crop was partly cut out by the old pool body," the Burley Tobacco Society, he said.

As a result of the conspicuous success of the burley movement the speaker predicted that in a few years the whole agricultural production of the state will be handled cooperatively through similar associations.

At the conclusion of Mr. Barker's speech several "hardened sinners," who had refused to become members of the association came forward amid the cheers of their neighbors and friends and signed the contract to the 1922 crop. At the adjournment of the meeting members of the association crowded around to shake hands with them. "Just as if they had joined church," a bystander remarked. "They have," his companion replied.
